

What is your ruling planet?

Your ruling planet plays an important part in your life, and it's movement through the skies will influence your focus at any moment in time. Your ruling planet corresponds to your sun sign, so all you need to do is find your sun sign below. For example, my sun sign is Aquarius, so my ruling planet is Uranus. (Did you know at one time, Freddie Mercury's brother-in-law joked that Freddie should be lucky not to have had Uranus as his ruling planet - his last name would then have had to be pronounced as your anus. Freddie didn't seem pleased with that!)
